

COURSE: MASTER OF SCIENCE IN CLINICAL NURSING - KING'S COLLEGE LONDON*Updated Sep 2023*

| Module | Lecturer | Qualification | Conferring Institution | Teaching Basis (Full Time/Part Time) |
|--|-----------------|---|--|---|
| Clinical Leadership | Julia Philippou | Doctor of Philosophy (Nursing) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| Digital Health and Technology Solutions | Julia Philippou | Doctor of Philosophy (Nursing) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| Enhancing Clinical Practice Dissertation | Ehsan Khan | Doctor of Philosophy (Neuroscience) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| Evidence & Research as the Basis of Care | Crina Grosan | Doctor of Information Sciences (Artificial Intelligence) | Babes-Bolyai University | Part Time |
| | Ehsan Khan | Doctor of Philosophy (Neuroscience) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| | Vicki Tsianakas | Doctor of Philosophy (Medical Anthropology) | La Trobe University | Part Time |
| Health Systems Management | Julia Philippou | Doctor of Philosophy (Nursing) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| Patient Safety and Cultural Variance | Ehsan Khan | Doctor of Philosophy (Neuroscience) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |
| Principles for managing long-term conditions | Julia Philippou | Doctor of Philosophy (Nursing) | King's College London, University of London | Part Time |